PROMPT 1:
The future I envision is
What future do you envision? How can we work to make it a reality? It might be a letter/poem from your future self that tells us how you responded to the moment we are in.

PROMPT 2:
I'm an environmentalist because
How are you investing in environmental justice? You might share a story from your community that reflects what environmentalism and climate justice looks/feels like.

PROMPT 3:
A call to action
What challenges are ahead? What solutions are available? Create a public service announcement that promotes environmental awareness and solutions.

ABOUT THE YOUTH FILMMAKING CHALLENGE
Are you a young storyteller hoping to make your mark on the movement for environmental justice? This is the sign you’ve been waiting for!

You’re invited to submit a 90 second film answering one of our three prompts that paints a hopeful portrait of our future, illustrates your personal commitment as a proud environmentalist, and inspires grassroots and global community action. Each submission will be entered for a chance to win one of our special prizes including our grand prize award that will be reviewed and selected by a panel of esteemed judges. Submissions are due March 21, 2022, and winners will be announced on Earth Day April 22, 2022.

2021-22 JUDGES INCLUDE:
- Robert Redford: Co-Founder, The Redford Center
- Silbyile Szaggars Redford: Multimedia Artist
- Coyote Peterson: Host, Brave the Wilderness
- José G González: Founder, Latino Outdoors
- Kristy Drutman: Founder, Brown Girl Green
- Ali Fujino: Executive Director, Far Star Action Fund
- Shannon Germaine: Student Filmmaker, 2021 Winner

STUDENT TESTIMONIAL
“I learned that activism is something that I actually like. Both political and environmental. I like using my voice and also being the face of my community since there aren’t many of us.”

Open to students grades 5-12 or ages 10-18